This report summarises the data results released in a series of reference tables by the Office for National Statistics (ONS) on December 11th 2012.

The ONS census site for all information is available: here

The report has three sections:

- Summary of Key Points
- List of data tables within the release, including a description and embedded hyperlinks to the full datasets on ONS website.
- Selected extracts from each data table, showing the Slough position in numbers, percentages and ranks against other councils. Percentages are compared against: the regional position (South East England), England and Wales, and England only. The percentages are also ranked amongst the 348 local authorities that comprise England and Wales.

In these ranked comparisons, Slough's position is highlighted in terms of the quartile in which it sits - showing clearly the particularly high and low positions against a range of data sets.

How to read the table extracts:

The diagram illustrates how to read the table extracts. It shows a table with columns for 'All residents', 'Males', 'Females', 'Lives in a household', 'Lives in a communal establishment', 'Schoolchild or full-time student aged 4 and over at their non-term-time address', 'Area', and 'Density'. The table includes data for Slough UA and compares it to South East, England and Wales, and England. A 'Ranks' row shows Slough UA's position among 348 local authorities, with a color-coded bar indicating its quartile. Callouts explain that the table name and description are in the top left, Slough data (numbers) is in the 'Numbers' row, Slough data (percentages) is in the 'Percentages' rows, and comparator percentages are in the 'Percentages' rows for other regions. A note on the right explains that the rank row ranks Slough's percentage value amongst 348 local authorities, with 1 being the highest value and 348 the lowest, and color coding reflects quartiles.
